COUNTY BOARD MEMBER DIES

Injuries Resulting from Auto Accident Fatal to Commissioner Kraner.

Harrison G. Kraner, Marion county commissioner and widely known Marion county farmer, died in Grant hospital at Columbus last night at 11:05 after undergoing treatment for several months for injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Mrs. Kraner and one daughter, Miss Inez Kraner of Columbus, were with him at the time of death.

Although Mr. Kraner had been losing strength gradually and failed to rally from the injuries and the subsequent amputation of a leg on Dec. 18, his death was unexpected. Plans had been made shortly before his death to give him another blood transfusion.

Injured in an automobile accident last Oct. 22 while driving to his home east of Claridon on route 95, Mr. Kraner was taken first to Marion City hospital for treatment, and on Oct. 31 was removed to Grant hospital. Amputation of his leg was necessary when a fracture failed to heal and an infection developed.

In Office Since 1940

Mr. Kraner had been a county commissioner since 1940, and his term would have expired at the end of this year. His successor to fill the term will be selected by the county auditor, county recorder and probate judge.

He was a member of the Marion county fair board for many years and served as a fair official in various capacities including president of the board and treasurer.

He served two terms as a Claridon township trustee and for a number of years was a member of the Claridon board of education.

Always a resident of Claridon community, he operated two farms totaling 180 acres. He was born May 23, 1886 on a farm near the family's present home, a son of George and Caroline Sipple Kraner. On Feb. 11, 1911, he married Bertha E. Fisher, who, with four daughters, survives. The daughters are Miss Inez Kraner of Columbus, Mrs. Clifford Sturne of 198 Chicago avenue, Miss Georgia Kraner and Miss Patty Kraner, both at home. A son, George Jr., died in 1924. He also leaves a brother, S. B. Kraner, of near Caledonia and a sister,

ERIE EMPLOYE FATALLY HURT AT ROUNDHOUSE

Door Falls on G. Ralph Cramer; Death Comes Few Hours Later.

G. Ralph Cramer, 34, of 265 North Seffner avenue, was injured fatally when a roundhouse door fell on him early today at the Erie railroad yards.

The mishap occurred about 1:25 a. m., about an hour and a half after he had reported for work as an engine dispatcher.

He was directing the movements of a locomotive that was moving a railroad crane car when the engine house door became dislodged from its hinges and fell, causing injuries that led to his death at 8 a. m. in Marion City hospital. The exact cause of the dislodging of the door had not been determined this morning.

Mr. Cramer had been an Erie employe since October of 1929, starting as a laborer. He was made engine dispatcher in July of 1930.

He was a native of Marion, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cramer. On Dec. 31, 1930 he was married to Evelyn Flannigan, who survives with two children, ages 2 and 6. He also leaves two brothers, Harry of Chestnut street and Delmar of Akron and a sister, Mrs. John Haubert of Silver street.

He was a member of St. Mary Catholic church and Machinists Union No. 1281.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 9:30 a. m. in St. Mary Catholic church in charge of Rev. Father William J. Spickerman. Burial will be made in St. Mary cemetery.

Friends may call after noon Saturday at the L. A. Axe & Son funeral home on Mt. Vernon avenue.

Drive Workers Urged To "Make Those Calls"

Early Completion of Canvass Essential, War Loan Leaders Say; Sales in County Now $338,986.

A new appeal to "make those calls" went out to all workers in the Fourth War Loan drive today from county leaders.

At the same time, a new date for completion of [illegible] groups of workers was set as Jan. 27—next Thursday.

"We had asked the workers to finish their calls by yesterday, but we have been hearing reports from several sections indicating that the calls have not been made," Robert E. White, drive chairman, said this morning.

"Above all, we want every worker and family in Marion county contacted personally during this part of the campaign. That means thorough coverage of territories by the block chairmen, factory committees, air raid wardens, rural community workers and township workers. We feel that workers should be able to accomplish this job at least by next Thursday. The drive has been so organized that this will not involve an unfair amount of work for any one person. Let's make the calls quickly and get Marion county's share of the money raised now instead of dragging out the drive."

Buy on Quota Basis

He spoke again of the cheering response that has been given by Marion county residents contacted so far in the drive. More than ever before Marion countians are buying bonds on the basis of the individual quotas assigned—one-third of a month's salary or wages for those working in professional business or factory work, and $1 an acre for farm owners or operators. "Some of these purchases involve some personal sacrifices but sacrifices on the part of all of us will be necessary if we raise this big $2,838,000 goal set for us," he declared.

Total Now $338,986

Reports today showed yesterday's sales amounted to $72,711.25, boosting the county's total sales in the drive to date up to $338,986.25 or nearly 12 per cent of the county goal.

Although sales must come along at a faster rate than this to reach the goal by Feb. 15, leaders found some satisfaction in the fact that individual purchases of E bonds made up the bulk of yesterday's sales—$51,456.25.

Other issues sold yesterday were $11,200 in G bonds, $8,000 in C notes, $2,000 in 2½ bonds and $55.50 in F bonds.

A total of 595 persons shared in yesterday's purchases including 493 who bought E bonds.

HUNT WOMAN IN SHOOTING

Many Puzzling Angles Confront Police: Revenge Motive Seen.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 21—Confronted with many puzzling aspects but lacking tangible clues, police intensified their hunt today for the slayer of Mrs. Frank Starr Williams, 55-year old wife of an American diplomat.

Mrs. Williams, socially prominent in Chicago, died last night, 25 hours after a mysterious, middleaged woman, who had gained entrance to her Drake hotel apartment, fired a bullet into her head. Paralysis quickly set in and physicians were unable to operate to remove the bullet.

Police said they were pursuing their investigation along many lines, while a state's attorney official described the case as a "revenge shooting."

Two witnesses, guests at the fashionable lake front drive hotel, described a woman they had seen fleeing from Mrs. Williams' eighth floor suite. Their description tallied with that given police by Mrs. Williams and her daughter, Mrs. Patricia Goodbody, 28, who herself had been fired upon by the gunwoman.

Members of the Williams family, police said, were unable to advance any motives. These included her husband, who for many years was commercial attache at the U. S. embassy in Tokyo. Williams, now in the state department in Washington, said he was certain there was no "Jap angle" to the shooting.

U. S. SUBS SINK 12 MORE JAPANESE SHIPS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—American submarines have sunk 12 more Japanese merchant vessels, bringing to 558 the number of Japanese ships sunk, probably sunk or damaged by submersibles since the war started.

The new report on damage inflicted by submarines ranging the Pacific was announced today by the Navy.

Of the 558 total, 408 ships have been definitely sent to the bottom. In addition, our submarines probably sunk 36 Japanese vessels and have damaged 114 others.

The Navy gave no indication where the Japanese ships were destroyed, but American submarines have operated within Japanese coastal waters.

The 12 ships listed in today's announcement were of the types used in moving materials and men, including seven medium freighters, two small freighters, a large tanker, a medium cargo transport and one small transport.

The sinkings cut further into the badly depleted Japanese cargo fleet which has been reduced so severely the enemy in many parts of the South Pacific has been forced to use barges in attempts to keep supplies moving.

40,000 Nazis Killed in Red Drive in North

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Jan. 21 — Russia's northern armies, engaged in two tremendous drives which in six days have lifted the two-year siege of Leningrad, captured the ancient bastion of Novgorod and killed 40,000 Germans, rolled on today in an effort to complete entrapment of upwards of 250,000 other Germans remaining in the Leningrad sector.

Capture yesterday of Novgorod, 100 miles southeast of Leningrad, by Gen. K. A. Meretskov's army opened the road to Lake Peipus and southern Estonia. The city had been in German hands since August, 1941.

Other Red army forces in the Leningrad sector under Gen. Leonid A. Govorov was reported to have encircled large units of enemy troops in the 50-square-mile Strelna corridor, running north from the Grasnoye Selo sector to the Gulf of Finland.

Near Rail Junction

The Soviet war bulletin said spearheads of Govorov's forces were less than nine miles from Krasnogvardeisk, rail junction directly south of Leningrad, through which enemy troops would be forced to withdraw toward Estonia to escape capture.

Govorov sealed off the Strelna corridor at a point 20 miles southwest of Leningrad after seizing the town of Strelna itself 10 miles across the bay from Leningrad.

Meretskov's troops were pushing westward from Novgorod and latest reports placed them more than 10 miles along the roads to Estonia.

In addition to the 40,000 Germans the Russians said they had slain, 4,000 more were reported captured.

The Russians reported capture of 265 [illegible] on the Leningrad sector since Jan. 14, [illegible]

6 PERISH IN FIRE NEAR LIMA

Mother, Sister and Four Children Die as Blaze Sweeps House.

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., Jan. 21 — Six persons perished early today in a fire that swept through a farm home near Spencerville, about 10 miles southwest of here.

Coroner Harry Lewis identified the victims as:

Mrs. Sadie Messer Handshoe, 32; her sister, Cletha Messer, 19, and Mrs. Handshoe's four children, Ruby Murle, 7, Palestine, 6, Paul Glen, 3, and Charles Donald, 8 months.

James Handshoe, the husband and father, was at work in the Lima tank depot as the fire started. He told Lewis he saw reflections of a big fire as he left Lima about midnight for his home and as he neared Spencerville noticed the fire appeared to be in the direction of his home.

He reached the farm at the same moment firemen from Spencerville pulled up, but the five-room home was destroyed then and no sign of life was evident.

Lewis said the fire apparently started from a coal or oil stove, both of which were used in heating the home and that the six were trapped in their bed.

Miss Messer ordinarily worked the night shift at the tank depot with Handshoe, but remained home last night because of illness.

Jap Cruiser and Six Merchant Ships Are Sent Down in Pacific

By The Associated Press

Submarine torpedoes and aerial bombs were credited today with sinking a Japanese light cruiser and six more merchant vessels in the allied war against enemy shipping.

A British submarine sent the cruiser of the 5,100-ton Kuma class to its death in the northern approaches to Malacca strait between Malaya, which the British lost with Singapore, and (Dutch) Sumatra, also held by the Japanese since 1942.

The underseas raider also sank three large Japanese supply ships in the same enemy waters of the Indian ocean, the British admiralty announced. Dates of the action were not given.

American navy Catalina bombers destroyed a 5,000-ton enemy ammunition ship and a 2,000-ton freighter off the Admiralty islands in the Bismarck sea Tuesday night, and a 3,000-ton cargo vessel near Hansa bay, northeast New Guinea, the next morning, General MacArthur's headquarters announced.

Army Seventh airforce fliers hit at Japanese shipping in four new raids on the mid-Pacific Marshalls Jan. 18 and 19. January attacks at Rabaul, New Britain, and in the Marshalls have sunk or probably sunk nearly 20 merchant ships, three destroyers, two cruisers and more than 100 barges or luggers.

Premier Hideki Tojo possibly had the recent sinkings in mind when he told the Japanese diet today Japan's shipping losses "cannot by any means be minimized." In fact, he said, it has prompted government efforts to reduce the toll "by strengthening the sea and air protection."

The Tokyo radio quoted Tojo as saying that Japan, unlike the allies, prefers a long war, with time to build up her strategic positions. He declared the empire had a "golden opportunity" to strike the allies "greater, smashing blows," but said he was compelled to renew his recent plea for a stepup in aircraft production.

In the southwest Pacific the allies sent more than 100 fighters to challenge the enemy over Wewak, New Guinea, shooting down 12 enemy planes against a loss of three.

The Japanese, however, refused to fight the next day when 59 Liberator heavy bombers came over Wewak with 133 tons of explosives.

Nipponese interceptors rose to meet south Pacific medium bombers and fighters in a raid Tuesday on Tobera airdrome of Rabaul, but the effort cost them 21 planes.

2,576 TONS OF RAF BOMBS BLAST CAPITAL

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Jan. 21—American heavy and medium bombers, along with RAF formations, attacked the Pas De Calais area of France today.

* * *

LONDON, Jan. 21 —The RAF gave Berlin the 11th great blow of a two-month obliteration campaign last night, and today American heavy bombers continued the offensive with more attacks on the mysterious Pas-De-Calais area of the northern French coast.

The new attack on German military installations in France started at dawn with streams of RAF fighter-bombers and fighters streaking across the channel. Soon afterward great formations of U. S. Fortresses and Liberators, escorted by Thunderbolts and Lightnings, droned across the 20-mile stretch of water, returning in mid-afternoon.

The massed weight of probably 700 RAF bombers smashed down on Berlin with about 2,300 long tons (2,576 U. S. tons) of bombs at dusk last night in a 20-minute scalding of the reich capital which set a new record for concentration.

Explosives tumbled from the big bellies of the blackwinged bombers at the rate of 100 tons a minute.

This was 13 more tons per minute than fell upon Brunswick in the previous record concentration of Jan. 11.

Long Flight of Planes

The massive eleventh blow in the two-month battle of Berlin was struck by a procession of four-engined bombers which took off almost in daylight and took three-quarters of an hour to cross the channel on the 600-mile flight to central Germany.

They returned before midnight with 35 bombers missing from this and other operations.

The great Berlin raid, the first since Jan. 2, sent huge fires through the capital where three-fourths of the important facilities already are believed destroyed.

Clouds blocked the defenders' searchlights, and blanketed their fighters.

But Swedish reports said anti-aircraft batteries put up an unprecedented barrage and the RAF suffered the second highest loss of the Berlin campaign.

The British Press association said it was understood the raiding force was the biggest yet sent against the German capital.

On this basis about 700 bombers probably were employed.

A total of around 16,000 tons of explosives now has been hurled upon the city since the start of sustained effort to eliminate the German capital.

The RAF's first reports of the raid echoed with a grim refrain. The air ministry communique said "large fires were left burning, smoke rising to a great height."

Twin-engined Mosquitos laid down a feint bombardment of targets in northwestern Germany, and fleets of minelayers again visited German waters.

From the joint operations the British lost 35 bombers.

It was the 105th attack of the war on Berlin.

In another night foray, Canadian Albacores swooped down on two Nazi destroyers in the channel and set one ablaze. One Canadian plane was lost.

The night attack which broke a 10-night lull in the assault on Europe also was the signal for an end to the five-day daylight respite, and RAF fighter-bombers swept out across the channel toward northern France at dawn followed by Spitfire formations.

Taking off almost before dark, the RAF fleet hit Berlin about 7 o'clock after plowing through one of the heaviest flak barrages ever thrown up over the capital.

Dispatches to Sweden said the Nazis had been steadily augmenting the number of anti-aircraft batteries about the city in a last

Patterson Reports Total War Production Is Still Increasing

At Same Time War Department Lays Plans for Returning Industry to Civilian Output.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 21—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson said today total production for war is increasing not diminishing but the war department is actively planning for prompt return of industry to peacetime production with as little dislocation as possible.

Asserting that industrial reconversion will be "at least as difficult and will take at least as long" as the original conversion to war production, Patterson told the United States conference of mayors, the planning "we now do for reconversion is in the nature of insurance."

The war department does not consider the war nearly over, Patterson told the mayors, but added, "We must now begin to think about the world after the war if we are not to lose the fruits of the very victory for which we are fighting."

"We must consider what demobilization will do to our domestic economy, and through it to the economy of the world," Patterson said in his prepared address.

A reversion to pre-war industrial conditions, the undersecretary asserted, would result in a 50 per cent reduction in the national income, extensive unemployment, and reduced factory capacity.

"But," he said, * * * "we cannot conceive of permitting our production and consumption rates to revert to their old levels, and they need not do so. * * * "The more we consider the problem as a whole the more convinced we become that if we can find a way to get industry out of the trenches in a hurry and with a reasonable

FARM MACHINERY REPAIR COURSE SESSIONS BEGUN

Classes Started at Garage Near Brush Ridge

The first session of the food production war training course on the repair, operation and construction of farm machinery and equipment was held at Bell's Welding Shop near Brush Ridge, Tuesday from 9 a. m. to 12 noon. Thirteen farmers of the community started work on six farm tools. W. L. Price, instructor, outlined the objectives of the course and pointed out some safety precautions to be observed in the handling of the shop tools. He also guided the trainees in the tasks at hand. Future class sessions will be held each Tuesday, Thursday and Friday for one month.

Besides furnishing an opportunity for farmers to service their own tools under the guidance of a skilled mechanic, it is expected that numerous labor-saving devices will be built and some valuable lessons learned concerning the adjustment and operation of farm tools.

The course is an emergency project set up for the purpose of aiding farmers in meeting the food production goals for 1944. R. T. Thew, Kenneth Williams and Foster Davidson were recently chosen to serve as an advisory committee. The course is sponsored by the Grand Prairie school and open to farmers of Grand Prairie, Salt Rock and adjoining townships.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Secretary of War Stimson, asked at a news conference yesterday if Gen. Douglas MacArthur would be relieved of active duty when he reaches the statutory retirement age of 64 next Wednesday, replied, "I don't think you need to worry about that."

Stimson explained that the retirement law would not apply in his case since he already was on the retired list. MacArthur retired in December, 1937, at his own request but subsequently was recalled to active service.

SOCIAL SECURITY URGED FOR "SELF-EMPLOYED"

Proposed Change Would Affect 10,600 In Four Counties.

Some 10,600 persons in the four county area served by the Marion field office of the social security board would be brought under the social security program if the board's recommendations to congress in its eighth annual report submitted in Washington this week, are adopted.

These figures are estimates compiled in the office of Miss Beatrice A. Bishop manager of the Marion field office on South State street, serving Marion, Wyandot, Union and Delaware counties.

The board recommends that operators of small farms and stores, repair services and the like be brought into the social security program. Only their employes are now in the program and Miss Bishop said one of the most frequently-asked questions at her office is when and how the so-called "self-employed" workers can participate in the program.

The board estimates that between 10,000,000 and 11,700,000 persons in the nation are excluded from the program by reason of self-employment, and urges congress to take action to extend the program to them.

Rough estimates place the number of self-employed in Marion county at 3,500, Union county 2,300, Wyandot county 2,300 and Delaware county 2,500.

The war ended yesterday
(for him)

So the war will be over by March? . . . By June? . . . No later than December? . . .

For this boy, it ended . . . yesterday.

For him, no victory parades . . . no welcome home . . . in March, in June, in December . . . ever.

A girl will put away his letters and her dreams. A mother will, for the last time, straighten up a room that she was keeping just as it was till he came home. A father will find himself grown older and more tired.

When this boy fell, part of America fell with him. For he was an American, and the strength of this land is the strength of the people. By each man that falls, we are made poorer. All else we lose can be replaced . . . but human life never.

Because machines will substitute, in some degree, for human lives, this has become a mechanized war, a costly war.

You are asked, in the Fourth War Loan Drive, to lend your government the money to pay for the weapons that save men's lives. Not give, just lend. But lend in such amounts that you will have to deprive yourself . . . do without . . . pinch pennies.

It isn't easy . . . it won't be easy . . . but who will hesitate to sacrifice while men yet die that you and I may still be free?

Weddings

Of interest here is the marriage of Miss Ruth Louise Braham of Bowling Green, formerly of Marion, and Capt. John W. Berry Jr. of Bowling Green, which took place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Methodist church at Bowling Green. Rev. Leslie O. Vesey read the ceremony.

Decorations in the church were baskets of white flowers and candles held in candelabra. The wedding music was furnished by Ruth Loomis and Walter McConnell.

The bride's dress was of mellow satin with a sweetheart neckline and the long, tight fitting sleeves ended in points at the wrists. The skirt of the gown ended in a long train. A tiara of seed pearls held the fingertip veil of illusion and her jewelry was a strand of pearls. She carried a handkerchief which had been carried by six brides at their weddings and her flowers were white roses.

Mrs. J. M. Quigley of Pittsburgh, Pa., sister of the bride was the matron of honor and the bridesmaid was Mrs. Howard Berry of Norman, Okla. Mrs. Quigley wore a gown of pink net and satin with bracelet-length sleeves and Mrs. Berry's dress of aqua net and satin was fashioned on similar lines. Both carried bouquets of mixed flowers. Diane Wetherell of Springfield, who was the flower girl, wore blue taffeta similar to the bride's gown. David Wetherill was the ringbearer. Best man for Captain Berry was his brother, Ensign Howard Berry, and ushers were Flying Officer Jack Coad of Toronto, Ontario, James Inman of Perrysburg and Charles Ferris of Cleveland.

At the reception the bride cut the wedding cake with the bridegroom's sword. When the couple left for Pittsburgh on a short wedding trip the bride was wearing a three-piece black gabardine costume with white accessories. The couple will go to Atlantic City where the bridegroom, who recently returned from overseas service, has been assigned for a 30-day rest period.

Attending the wedding from here were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Peoples of 283 Forest Lawn boulevard, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Peoples of 204½ East Center street, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Braham of South Prospect street and Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Braham of North Prospect street.

Relatives here have received an announcement of the marriage of Lt. John Thibaut, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Thibaut of Lorain, O., formerly of Marion, to Miss Ann Hammann, daughter of Mrs. John Hammann of Alexandria, Va.

The ceremony took place in the Army chapel at Miami, Fla., on Jan. 5, followed by a honeymoon in Miami Beach.

Lt. Thibaut graduated from Wilkesbarre High school in Pennsylvania, and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He did post-graduate work at Ohio State university and before entering service in August of 1942 was an instructor in psychology at Chapel Hill. He was transferred from Ft. Belvoir, Va., where he was commissioned March 31, 1943, to the medical examining unit of the air corps as a psychologist, Miami, Fla., where he is now stationed.

The bride attended Oberlin college, Bryn Mawr and the University of Columbia and did graduate work at Harvard university. She returned to work in Office of Strategic Services in Washington, D. C., as analyst but she expects to join her husband soon.

He is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thibaut of 189 Summit street.

IF YOU HAVE AN EYE TO THE FUTURE
You'll buy Extra War Bonds during the 4th War Loan Drive!
A war bond, like a dollar bill, represents your government's pledge to pay you a stipulated amount upon demand. But a war bond serves a double purpose. It fights for the democracy you live in,—and it gives you the security of reserve buying power for the magical post-war world ahead. It acts to curb demand for goods now, preventing inflation, and represents money for the future—when buying will be both easier and more exciting.

Army Develops New Night Fighter Plane

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., Jan. 21—The materiel command at Wright Field today reports development of a new fighter plane, the P-70, which mounts four 20-millimeter cannon in the nose instead of the bombardier's greenhouse.

The ship is a converted model of the Douglas A-20 Havoc bomber, and was unofficially named the "Night Mauler."

The announcement said the P-70 had been under development by the Douglas Aircraft Co. and the materiel command for a year, and was in mass production.

The P-70 carries a two-man crew and is powered by two Wright cyclone engines.

Knox Wins Decision Over Gil LaCrosse

Buddy Knox won the decision in a three-fall tussle with Gil LaCrosse in a mat contest at the Armory last night. Knox brought LaCrosse to the floor for the first fall with a step-over toehold in the first 10 minutes of the two-hour event. LaCrosse reciprocated by pinning Knox for a tumble with a crab hold in five minutes. The third and deciding fall was won in [illegible] minutes by Knox, who lowered LaCrosse with a stepover toehold.

Jackie Nichols and Angelo Savoldi grappled to a draw in a [illegible] semi-final contest. Nichols sent Savoldi crashing in 24 minutes to take the first fall with a body press. The second fall went to Savoldi, who took it over Nichols in 13 minutes with a toehold.

In a half-hour semi-final Don Sello won the single fall from Earl Malone in 15 minutes by referee's decision.

Secretary Stimson's Testimony

SECRETARY OF WAR STIMSON'S testimony in favor of a national service law reveals that the administration's official motive for requesting this drastic legislation is not primarily to boost production, but to boost morale in the armed services. Secretary Stimson's remarks before the senate military committee probably are typical of the testimony which other witnesses favoring national service will present. They will speak for the administration.

Their opinions will carry weight, because they are backed by official prestige. The fact remains, nevertheless, that there is room for disagreement with their point of view. The army and navy are notoriously concerned over what they speak of as home front weaknesses; they have been critical on numerous occasions. But at the same time they have expressed satisfaction with production achievements. Their position is not clear.

If the morale of the armed services needs such drastic medicine as enactment of a national service act, the people have not been apprised of the condition. They have the impression that service morale is high. To be sure, they know that fighting men and men preparing to go into battle are irritated by work stoppages and advantage-seeking at home—and their irritation is shared by most civilians—but these things have not been made impossible by national service in Great Britain and Canada and would not be made impossible by enacting a similar law here.

Until it can be shown clearly that a national service act would do more good than it would do harm and until the proposal becomes something more than a smooth maneuver to cover up for the weaknesses of the Roosevelt administration in its scatter-brained handling of labor problems, congress undoubtedly will continue to sit tight on a proposal to burn down the barn to get the horse out. The best morale medicine for the country's fighting men is adequate war production and the realization that the people back home are behind them.

Old Faithful

NOW there reappears on the stage, to loom over the tax issue, that old friend of the debaters on tax policy—the federal sales tax.

It has been used and abused more than any other tax known to man, though it never has been adopted and isn't likely to be adopted in the foreseeable future. There probably has been more discussion about it than there has been about the tariff, but things never passed beyond the discussion stage.

At the drop of a hat, experts will come running from all directions to testify that it is the greatest or the most iniquitous idea ever conceived by statesmen or knaves, as the case may be. They even can tell to a penny how much it will and will not produce in the way of revenue.

Congressmen have built careers on little more than opposition to it, and others are within striking distance of fame for their support of the same thing. It has filled the pages of The Congressional Record and, if their statements are credible, has filled the mail of congressmen for lo these many years. A federal sales tax is Old Faithful in the field of public proposals that never get adopted—always good for one more rise, but nothing ever comes of it.

Procedural Steps Toward Peace

THE Russian newspaper Pravda's publication of a rumor that Germany has approached Great Britain with peace feelers will have one good effect. It will turn attention to the procedural steps toward peace that eventually must be taken.

Under the specified terms of unconditional surrender, Germany would have to surrender simultaneously to all its enemies, with no single one of them having the advantage of being singled out for special approach. All the intricacies of bringing a gigantic war on many fronts to an orderly conclusion would have to be smoothed out by remote control negotiations, because Germany has no direct contact with the Allies. The complications of such a project may be surmised by recalling what happened at the close of World war I, when the United States was acting by tacit consent as an open avenue of approach for negotiation; this time, even that possibility would be ruled out.

In other words, the way matters seem to stand at present, Germany is virtually given an invitation to create Allied friction by merely taking advantage of the lack of any established procedure for terminating the war. Any approach that might be made would be subject to misunderstanding and rumor. It would be infinitely better if the Allies would agree that contact must be made through, say, Switzerland, make their agreement known to Germany, then await results in the greater popular confidence that would result from knowing in advance just how the thing was going to be done

Economic Observers Wonder Where Big National Post-War Income To Come From.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—The [illegible] [illegible] sent [illegible] a [illegible] war-time economy virtually [illegible] into the [illegible] price and wage level and [illegible] [illegible].

Vice President Wallace, in his [illegible] [illegible] entering a new official pattern of administration [illegible] and we must maintain a post-war national income of at least $130,000,000,000 to pay the interest on our war debt through taxation. This is nearly a third more than business men have been planning.

Mr. Roosevelt, in his budget message, said the post-war interest [illegible] would run about $5,000,000,000, but "with a national income of $125,000,000,000 or more, these payments need not be oppressive." He took the income for granted.

The breath-taking scope of such idea was not evident, because they neglected to mention that their amounts are double the pre-war year of 1938 and nearly equal to what the nation earned this past swollen war year of 1943.

Income Figures

From 1932 through 1943, the national income—what every man, woman and child received in wages, salaries, dividends, etc.—ran $16,000,000,000; $71,000,000,000; $78,000,000,000; $95,000,000,000; $120,000,000,000, and last year, $146,500,000,000. (Latest rate figure for fourth quarter last year rose to $153,800,000,000).

Amazing as the announced goal is the government certainly will have to hit somewhere around it. As Mr. Roosevelt also neglected to say, the other running costs of post-war government will mount from $7,000,000,000, (non-war expenditures now) on up to $10,000,000,000; $12,000,000,000; or even $15,000,000,000 — so your total post-war budget may average above $15,000,000,000 in all, (without provision for debt retirement). The government will have to collect that much from the people to keep even.

New Deal Spending

Size of this obligation is apparent when you consider that the heaviest New Deal spending ran only to a top budget of around $10,000,000,000, and, of course, this was not raised from taxes but by borrowing and debt.

The high figures mentioned by Messrs. Roosevelt and Wallace seem to assume some new undisclosed rabbits in the economic hat. The great dearth of goods in the country—the backlog of demand for everything consumers use—will furnish a great stimulus for a long time to come, but whether this alone would provide $130,000,000,000, even at present price-wage levels, is doubtful. It should furnish $100,000,000,000.

Only rabbit ear which Mr. Wallace let his CIO audience peek at was his suggestion that "we must have a vast stockpile of blueprints for public roads, schools, sewers, reforestation, irrigation, dams and flood control projects for every state in the union." If he thinks that will do any good, he is back in his old quart-of-milk-a-day haze.

Would Aggravate Problem

Such spending must come from the federal government and, therefore, would complicate the problem rather than ease it—by increasing the budget taxation, etc., still more, or else run the war debt still higher through more borrowing and add to the difficulties of interest payment.

The administration, therefore, can put those blueprints aside and forget them. No federal political spending programs are going to do this situation any good.

The only thing that will do the job is a high level of private, productive business and individual earnings to produce the tremendous taxes needed. Spending works the opposite way.

Let no one doubt that it will be done. Whatever is needed to stimulate business into $100,000,000,000 or $130,000,000,000 of national income must be done.

In view of the power of the government, results are inevitable. Even if a higher price and wage scale proves necessary, the government can hike it. Incentive taxation is another way.

High Cost of Fighting

War Taking 92.3 Per Cent of Federal Dollar.

THE high cost of war and the high cost of living are part of the same thing, though popular attention is more likely to be fixed on the latter.

Using figures from President Roosevelt's budget message, this is what the high cost of war looks like for the present fiscal year, now more than half over:

Of every dollar spent by the government during the year, 92.3 cents will go directly to the war effort, 2.7 cents to pay the interest on the public debt (most of which was caused by war spending) and the other 5 cents to other activities, some of them prompted by the war effort.

Of the money spent on the war effort during this fiscal year, war department is using 55 per cent, navy department 31 per cent and other agencies 14 per cent.

The public debt at the end of the fiscal year next June will amount to about $1,450 for every man, woman and child in the country, or about $5,000 for the ordinary family.

Net government expenditures for the year are estimated at 96 billion, compared with net expenditures at an annual rate of 25 billion in World war I. However, at the armistice of that war national income was at the rate of 61 billion a year, whereas today it is at the rate of 150 billion. Government spending in 1918 approximated 40 per cent of the national income, today approximates 65 per cent.

The government dollar in 1944 comes from these sources: Borrowing 57.1 cents; personal incomes, 20 cents, corporation income 5.7 cents; corporation excess profits, 8.6 cents; liquor, .9 of one cent; beer, .5 of one cent; cigarets, .9 of one cent, excise taxes, 1.8 cents; estates, .5 of one cent; customs, .4 of one cent; miscellaneous 3.6 cents.

Even without the new taxes which are expected to go into effect before the end of the fiscal year, government receipts, aside from borrowing, are due to equal 43 per cent of expenditures. In the previous fiscal year which ended June 30, 1943, receipts were 28 per cent of expenditures.

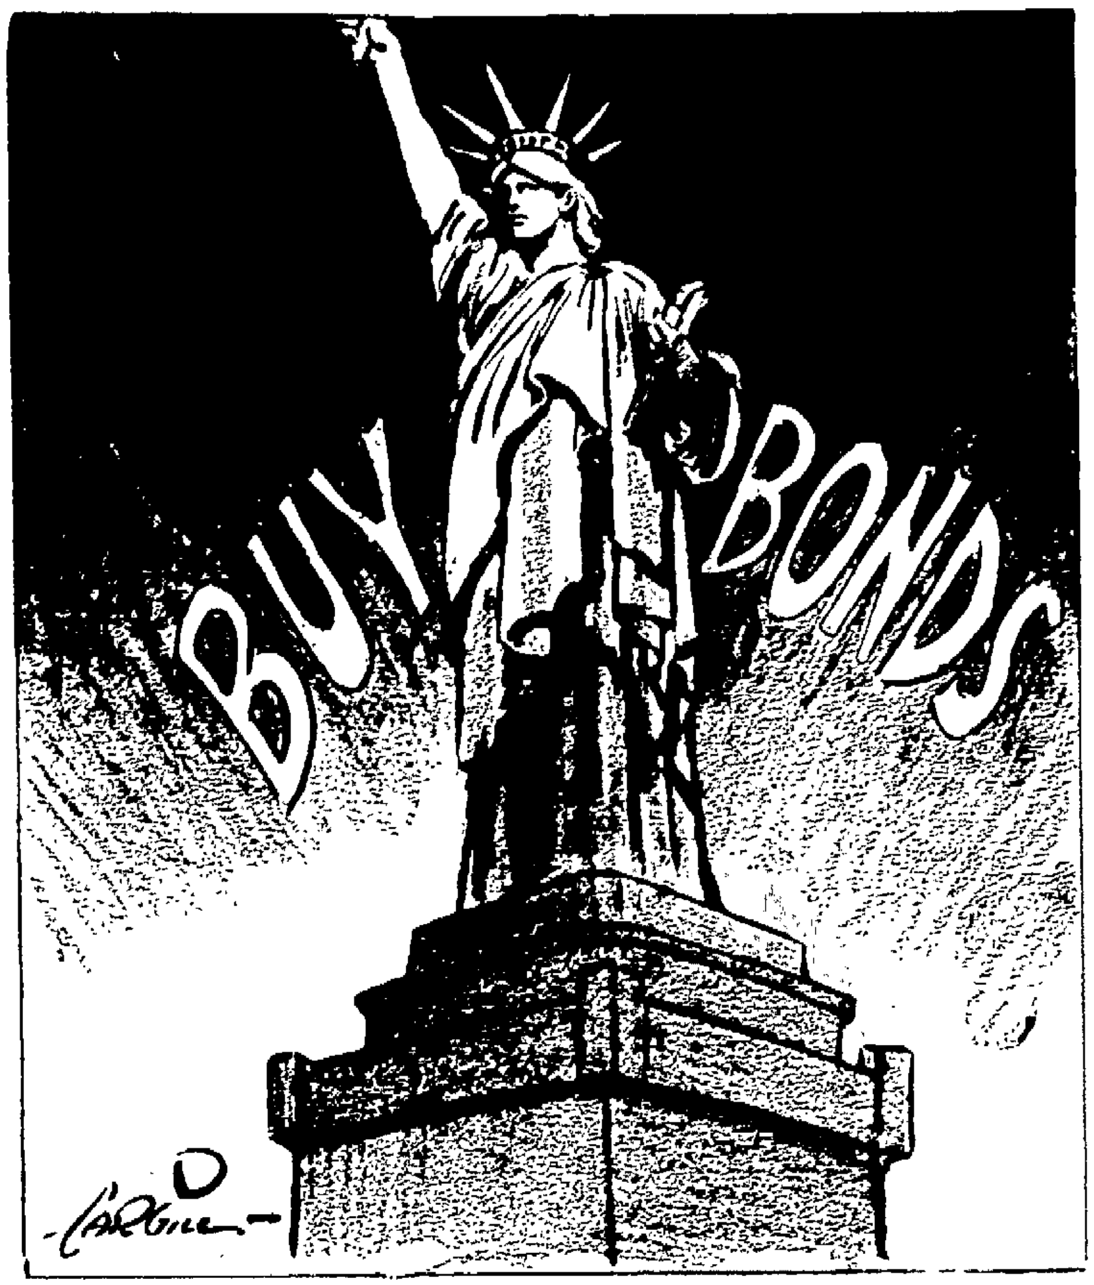
"PIN UP GIRL"



Argentina Tries Own Brand of Isolation

"Neutrality" May Prove To Be Post-War Boomerang.

SOREST spot in American hemispheric relations is Argentina — with the inflammation threatening to spread.

The attitude of the Argentine government which came into power last June suggests strongly that something besides the usual jealousy of the United States may be involved—something that may have its origin far from Buenos Aires.

This suspicion was stated by Secretary of State Hull last Aug. 30 in a reply to the Argentine foreign minister's claim that his government's "neutrality" was not being understood. Secretary Hull cited numerous instances in which Argentina had failed to implement by actons pledges given at various Pan American conferences. He stated that it was "notorious that Axis agents in Argentina have been and are engaging in systematic espionage" and pointed out that "since Argentina, both by its words and its actions, has indicated clearly that the Argentine armed forces will not under present conditions be used in a manner designed to forward the cause of the security of the New World, and, thereby, the vital war interests of the United States, it would be impossible for the President of the United States to enter into an agreement to furnish arms and ammunition to Argentina under the lend-lease act."

Suspicion of Argentina's motives have been sharpened during recent weeks by reports that the coup which overthrew the pro-Allied government of Bolivia last Dec. 20 had its inspiration across the border in Argentina. In the Chilean congress, the charge has been made that "neighboring countries are plotting to overthrow the government of Chile and set up in that country an anti-democratic regime corresponding to those now in power at Buenos Aires and La Paz."

On recommendation of the emergency advisory committee for the political defense of the western hemisphere, American governments which have declared war on the Axis powers or broken diplomatic relations with them are now examining the circumstances that determined establishment of the new government of Bolivia. Argentina alone has given it official recognition; all other American governments have withheld recognition pending the outcome of exchanges of information among themselves.

ARGENTINA is the only nation of the western hemisphere which continues to maintain diplomatic relations with the Axis. This solitary position has changed its status in Latin America from that of spokesmen for other governments fearful of the United States to one of isolation from the other nations of the new world.

Besides the jealousy of the United States which has caused Argentina to resist this country's influence in Latin America in the past there has been a condition of economic incompatibility separating the two countries.

The United States has had less need of the food products which Argentina exports than it has had for the products of other South American countries. This lack of a sound reciprocal basis for trade between the two nations prevented development of close economic ties.

For a short span of years during and after World war I, Argentina turned to the United States for the goods which could not be obtained at that time from Europe, with unfortunate results. Numerous fly-by-night export firms took Argentine orders, usually requiring cash in advance, then shipped goods which failed to come up to the Argentine standard of satisfaction. When the war-inspired boom collapsed, Argentine buyers refused to accept delivery on a falling market and consequently were denounced by United States businessmen.

Resentment was created still further by certain man-made obstacles, such as tariff restrictions and so-called sanitary embargoes on Argentine products.

In 1939 a concrete effort was made by the United States to improve its trade relations with Argentina. In August of that year the state department announced that after four years of preliminary discussion the two countries would negotiate a trade treaty. Except for Japan, which signed a treaty with Argentina in 1940, this was the only major trading power without a modern trade agreement.

NEGOTIATIONS collapsed in January, 1940, however, because neither country would modify its established trade policy. Discussions were resumed late in the year and an agreement was signed on Oct. 14, 1941. Trade between the two countries already had increased substantially because the war had curtailed Argentine trade with Europe, and the United States was eager to acquire certain Argentine products for its defense needs.

Contrary to its previous policy, therefore, Argentina was compelled to rely to an increasing degree from the United States for essential imports. During the first nine months of 1941 Argentine exports from the United States increased in value by almost 126 per cent over the corresponding period of 1940. At the same time, United States exports to Argentina declined, primarily because manufacturers here either were engaged in war work or were unable to obtain government export licenses.

For 1942, Argentina had a total export trade balance higher than any year since 1937—an increase of 11.5 per cent over 1941 in value. The United States was the leading supplier of Argentine imports, in terms of value, but during the first 10 months of 1943 fell to third place, behind Great Britain and Brazil.

Sumner Welles, formerly undersecretary of state, has pointed out that while United Nations purchases have created a temporary boom in Argentina, "the rapid industrialization which has taken place in neighboring countries, fostered by war conditions and made possible with credit facilities obtained through agencies of the United States government, will place Argentine national economy at a serious disadvantage in the post-war years." He recommended that Washington should make it clear to the existing government that as long as Argentina "refuses to carry out its binding obligation to defend the freedom of the Americas no assistance of any kind will be forthcoming from the United States."

Misunderstanding

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK — The tall handsome man was fingering the sheet music and the pretty young clerk in the music store asked him if there was something he wanted.

"Kissing is no sin," replied the t. h. man.

"I beg pardon!" said the clerk.

"Kissing is no sin," reiterated t. h. m.

The clerk summoned a colleague who got the same response. The colleague called the manager.

"What do you mean by annoying these young ladies?" demanded the manager.

"I am not annoying anybody," said the t. h. m. "I am Enzio Pinza of the Metropolitan Opera, and all I want is a copy of a little song of Eysler's called 'Kissing Is No Sin'."

A Plan That Failed

By The Associated Press

DURHAM, N. C. — Irritated by shoplifting, a local department store loaded empty parcels with the admonition "Crime Doesn't Pay," and placed them at convenient places on the counters.

The sales clerks were greatly amused at the gradual disappearance of these dummy parcels. But a check-up at the end of the day revealed that shoplifters also had made off with their usual quota of merchandise.

Name Calling

There Are Lots of Monickers but Most of Them of No Worth for Good Nags and Newspapers.

By DAMON RUNYON

RUNYON BYLINE TO GO . . . .

A WEALTHY newcomer to the turf, W[illegible] Helis of New Orleans, paid $50,000 [illegible] yearling last August, one of the all-time [illegible] bids for an untried equine.

Mr. Helis soon received a large number of suggestions from turf writers and others [illegible] what he should name his purchase, the [illegible] being disposed to great helpfulness in a situation of this nature.

Probably he became a trifle confused by the suggestions and not wanting to hurt anyone's feelings by ignoring their ideas, he [illegible] he thought he would call his adolescent "The Unnamed Colt," at which the suggesters drew themselves up huffily and said, "[illegible]"

Only the way they said it meant "The idea!" and "What gall!" and other expressions calculated to put this turf parvenu in his place, first, for daring to reject their ideas and second, for thinking of a name that would be highly satirical, to say the least.

But Brother Helis has relented and [illegible] the colt Pericles, after a Greek statesman way back yonder. The boys are satisfied. I am reminded of a similar predicament in which my old man found himself when he was starting a newspaper in Solomon City, Kansas, many years ago and was swamped with suggestions for a name.

LIKE our friend Helis, my old man did not want to step on anyone's corns by ignoring the suggestions. When publication day came around he found himself still unable to pick a name so he issued his public print as "The Solomon City Newspaper."

Of course, Mr. Helis could never have gotten his title "The Unnamed Colt" past the good Mr. Klees, registrar of the Jockey club to whom all names must be submitted for approval. He is very particular about equine monickers. He has a fancy for dignity and the appropriate in the titling of horses but I have come to the conclusion Mr. Klees, like Homer, occasionally nods because some of the names of horses now running are pretty terrible.

I think "The Unnamed Colt" a better name than about 50 per cent of those accepted, but I can sense the subtle sarcasm of the tag that would have caused its rejection. Another horse owner once got tired of rejections and wanted to name his steeds "A" and "B" and "C" and so on down the alphabet. Naturally, he got nowhere with this idea, but I think it was just as good as naming horses Valdina this and Valdina that, or Darby so-and-so, which is permissible and leads to great confusion.

SOME mighty weird nomenclature now clutters the turf, including those cute intimate names of friends of owners. I think a name like "Sweetie Sweet" is a dirty trick to play on a horse. Sometimes owners name their horses after public figures with the idea of currying favor with them, and you would be surprised how far a little flattery of that kind goes.

However, it can also have a different reaction if the horses turn out bums and a reproach to the names they bear. This unfortunate happenstance exposes the human namesake to much ribbing, as I discovered when a horse named for me years ago was quickly disclosed as an alligator in disguise. Of course, some horses named for humans have turned out great horses, but the chances of true greatness are 1,000 to 1 against every nag foaled.

Personally, I think the Jockey club should ban the practice of naming horses after [illegible] persons and should penalize with 40 lashes those who try to give the poor critters diminutives as names or any titles of an endearing nature that have a meaning known only to a few.

One of our most extensive and richest turf operators used to sneak past the registrar names of obscene import to those in the know, which may have been very funny to some, but which I thought pretty cheap business on the part of the owner. It tended to confirm what I long half suspected, that he had no class in the first place.

The Takeoff

By Truman Twill

What could be a more impressive testimonial to education, asks an associate, than the [illegible] of $100,000 worth of gas-rationed automobiles bearing down on the little red schoolhouse of a dark Monday morning to deliver late pupils whose families didn't get up soon enough?

The grim-faced parent—maybe papa on his way to work, or more likely mama with a coat over her nightgown and her uncombed hair hidden under a hat which has been [illegible] backward—the white-faced child [illegible] nervously with fear of being late—these [illegible] testimonials to educate, chum.

Education hasn't anything to do with it. [illegible] kids could miss a whole week of school and education would still be the same, whatever [illegible]. The reason the kids get that four-alarm [illegible] is because their fathers and mothers are [illegible] to admit they got up too late to get [illegible] school.

There is no excuse for sluggishness [illegible] parent ever had the nerve to write to a [illegible] teacher. It can not be written that Junior missed the boat, or was merely late for the [illegible] because his old man insisted on staying up [illegible] the night before, or his old lady got all [illegible] up in a mystery story and read till 3 a. m. That just isn't done.

The whole family should have risen [illegible] at 6:30 sharp. Breakfast should have been [illegible] leisurely, with second and third helpings [illegible] Basic 7. There should have been bright conversation about birds and flowers and plenty [illegible] for everybody to wipe off the egg and [illegible] hair combed.

The little moppets should have walked [illegible] school in the crisp, cold air, arriving there poised and in A-1 shape for another [illegible] the books. The car should have stayed [illegible] garage, where it belongs in wartime. [illegible] should have been dressed and had her hair on straight. Papa should never [illegible] to work half-awake, half-clothed and [illegible]

But it doesn't work out that way, [illegible] on dark Monday mornings. There [illegible] that fateful moment when someone [illegible] the slumber party must break up. [illegible] fed and motorized in 13 minutes. [illegible] muffled oaths and corn flakes fill the [illegible] strings break and buttons come off [illegible] combed and toast eaten on the fly.

"Tomorrow morning," the old man [illegible] "we will not let this happen!"

Nationwide Survey Begun on National Service Law Plan

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 21—From coast to coast the opinion of voters in all income levels and geographical sections are being sounded this week by the Institute on President Roosevelt's proposal for a national service law.

Reports from Washington indicate that congressional leaders are marking time on the proposal until they hear the views of the country. The results of the Institute survey, to be published shortly, will be of special interest to political observers for the light which may be shed on the main point of contention, namely, does the country consider a national service law necessary at this time?

Previous surveys of opinion have shown that the principle of such a law, which would give the government the right to tell every civilian what sort of work to do for the war, was approved by the majority of Americans as far back as March, 1942, or 21 months ago. Last summer no less than 70 per cent of all persons polled by the Institute favored the idea of compulsory labor service in the event of a manpower shortage.

But the current discussion over national service hinges not so much on the principle of such a law as on the question whether the manpower shortage is sufficiently acute to call for this drastic step. Earlier studies show that the public has been fairly evenly divided in its opinion as to whether the manpower shortage is really chronic. Much will depend on whether the government can convince the country that the end of the war will actually be delayed unless there is a national service act.

MORGENTHAU URGES HIGHER WAR OUTPUT

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Jan. 21 — War production must go on to new peaks and everything is not "in the bag," Henry Morgenthau, secretary of the treasury, declared last night in his first speech of the Fourth War Loan drive.

He announced that even though 1943 production was 154 per cent of the 1942 total, the goal for the coming year had been set at 180 per cent.

"There is lots of work to be done and it is going to take a lot of money," he commented.

The new war loan is already off to a fast start, Morgenthau reported, with sales to individuals totaling $1,048,000,000 of the $5,500,000,000 goal. Of this $523,000,000 was paid for series E bonds, which sell at 75 per cent of maturity value.

The national goal including institutional sales is $14,000,000,000.

Morgenthau said a fifth loan would be launched in May or June.

He said despite rumors of heavy redemptions of war bonds, 93 per cent of the $25,500,000,000 worth bought since May 1, 1942, still were being held.

PATTERSON

whole skin, we will have won at least half the battle."

Patterson said about 50 per cent of all industry is engaged in war production and that about 20 per cent is totally converted. The task of reconversion, he explained, is somewhat lightened by the virtual certainty the war will not end at once in all theaters. He expressed belief "a year or more" might elapse between the collapse of Germany and surrender of Japan.

No Production Cuts

Discussing current terminations of war contracts, Patterson said they do not signify a let-down in production, but rather a constant revision of requirements as the conditions of war shift and new weapons are developed.

He listed the following as the prime planks in the war department's reconversion platform: 1—Termination settlements must be negotiated by the procurement agencies, and must be final, subject to reopening only if evidence is developed of fraud. No third party must have a hand in the settlement; 2—there should be a central, government-wide agency to formulate policy; 3 — there should be a central disposal agency for surplus government property; 4—there should be a comprehensive system of financial aid to war contractors pending final settlement.

The Swedish reports said the RAF had a good cloud cover over the capital itself and the formations were able to come in low for the attack. There was no reference to fighter opposition.

Reports to Stockholm said the Nazis were hastening preparations for other allied blows deeper in the German-controlled areas.

The German broadcast suggested last night's Berlin bombing force had ideal weather for the attack.

The radio said, "German authorities had expected major bomber formations would make an attack, and as a result the ack-ack defenses were effective to the fullest extent from the start."

Rome reported an allied air attack on the outskirts of the Italian capital at 2:30 p. m. yesterday.

The Italian report declared allied planes blasted the Prenestina, Porta and Maggiore quarters of the city in an attack directed against the Termini railroad yards.

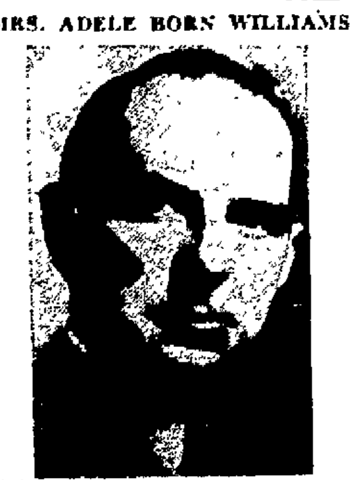
MRS. ADELE BORN WILLIAMS



FRANK STARR WILLIAMS

MYSTERY SHOOTING of Mrs. Williams, wealthy member of an old Chicago family, is being investigated by Chicago police. Her husband, also pictured, is an attache of the U. S. State department. Mrs. Williams was shot in the head by a "middle-aged woman" in a room in the Drake hotel.

* * *

Death occurred at 7:45 p. m., the hospital announced.

The theory that the slaying might have been inspired by a revenge motive was advanced today as Assistant States Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley stated:

Looks Like Revenge

"It appears to be a revenge shooting. We have learned Mrs. Williams had some enemies."

He said relatives and friends would be questioned further.

Chicago police reported Mrs. Williams had cocktails with an attractive, dark-haired woman a few hours before she was shot.

Detectives strove to find a trace of a woman who rushed along a corridor outside Mrs. Williams' suite last night shortly after she was shot. C. P. Brewster, a sales manager from Lancaster, Pa., who had a room on the same floor, and Stanley A. Cook, a Chicago business associate, reported the woman hurried past them in the hall.

She was described as middle-aged, about five feet, two inches tall, weighing about 130 pounds, wearing a short Persian lamb coat or jacket, and having a red decoration on her hat or hair.

The accounts of the two business men dovetailed with stories told by Mrs. Williams and her daughter, Mrs. Goodbody. The latter stated the assailant fired ineffectively at her before turning the revolver on her mother.

Find Gun on Stairs

Dr. Thomas J. Coogan, hotel physician, related there were powder burns on Mrs. Williams' face, chest and left hand, the last indicating she had raised her hand as a shield when shot at close range.

Police Lieutenant John Quinn said there also was a powder burn on a left forefinger of Mrs. Goodbody. He concluded she, too, had been near the assailant.

He reported the gun used in the attack had been found on a landing between the third and fourth floors the second time police searched the stairway. Mrs. Williams' apartment was on the eighth floor. No fingerprints were discernable on the weapon.

Williams came to Chicago today. He told reporters he was unable to conceive any motive for the assault.

"She was kind and generous," he said. "I know of no enemies."

Williams also confirmed a report that his wife had written an 800-page manuscript of her experiences in Tokyo, but doubted that this had anything to do with the attempt on her life.

Appropriation Voted in Crawford County

By The United Press

BUCYRUS, Jan. 21—A boost in appropriations in the county bridge and road funds accounted for an increase in appropriations for county operation from $416,337 last year to $426,493, adopted by county commissioners this week.

Other increases noted in 1944 appropriations were small salary boosts in the office of clerk of courts, county home, probate court and juvenile court. An appropriation of $1,500 as against $160 last year for new equipment was made for the county engineer. A new appropriation this year was for $10,000 in anticipation of damages for construction of a new North Sandusky avenue bridge.

ROOSEVELT LIKELY TO IGNORE PLEAS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—President Roosevelt probably will ignore the fourth term draft noise being created by members of the Democratic national committee so completely he may not even send an official representative to the committee's here tomorrow.

Although the President will receive committee members at the White House this afternoon, party leaders said there was no indication Mr. Roosevelt planned either to address them by radio as he did last year or to send the party faithful a message of cheer at tomorrow night's banquet.

The President, explained Chairman Frank C. Walker, is nine days behind on his appointments because of a bout with the "flu." And, Walker added, there is a war on—his statement implying that situation left little time for politics now.

In spite of the chorus of fourth term demands grew louder today as additional delegates arrived for tomorrow's session to select Robert E. Hannegan as national chairman to succeed Walker and to fix Chicago as the site for the party's nominating convention. The date of the convention may be left to the new chairman, although July 24 is considered likely.

The fourth term boom, started by former Gov. Culbert L. Olson of California, found recruits today in Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, a national committeeman; Thomas R. King, Wisconsin's national committee member; Elmer F. Kelm, Minnesota state chairman, and Jake More, Iowa state chairman.

During the same period Meretskov's troops on the Volkhov front captured 182 guns, 120 mortars, 635 machineguns, 263 trucks, 21 tractors and 25 dumps. They destroyed 178 guns, 15 tanks, 100 mortars, 365 machineguns and 350 trucks, the communique asserted.

Far to the south, Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's first Ukrainian army hurled back German attacks north of Khristinovka, where the Russians have been stalled in their drive toward the Odessa-Warsaw railway and Rumania.

Dejute Boy Kidnaper To Receive Parole

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 21—John Demarco, one of the two men convicted 11 years ago for kidnaping James Dejute, son of a Niles contractor, is to be paroled from state penitentiary March 1, the state pardon and parole commission announced at Columbus.

The Dejute boy was kidnaped just a few hours after Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. was taken from his home at Hopewell, N. J. Dowell Hargraves, charged with the actual kidnaping and now serving a life sentence in Ohio penitentiary, said later he kidnaped the Dejute boy after the publicity. Publicity surrounding the Lindbergh kidnaping, however, overshadowed the Dejute case and it received little notice outside this district.

The Dejute boy, Demarco and Hargraves were found in a house near Youngstown three days after the kidnaping.

GOODNIGHT IN BERLIN

Early in the war they wished one another "a bombless night." Now the expression commonly used is [illegible] which freely translated means "hope you survive."

Senate Opens Early To Take Up Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—The senate opened its doors an hour earlier than usual today and prepared to install in the new tax bill once and for all, a revised war contracts renegotiation law.

Unanimous approval by the finance committee had given the liberalization of present renegotiation statutes a powerful shove toward senate adoption. But objections are still expected to the tacking on of the revisions to the $2,275,600,000 added revenues bill.

As it stands, the revision sets next Dec. 31 as a tentative date for terminating renegotiation. Dissatisfied contractors could appeal decisions and contracts aggregating less than $500,000 a year would be exempt.

Allies Now Seem To Have the Key To Rome Defense

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The opening of a long stretch of Italy's ancient Appian Way that [illegible] no turning [illegible] Uncle Sam's mud-caked Fifth army may at last have found the twist [illegible], so to speak, [illegible] bring it within sight of the objective of hellish months of battling both Germans and weather—the eternal city of Rome.

This encouraging vantage point has been reached by the breaching of the Hitler line north of the Garigliano river—a difficult and dangerous operation which forced the enemy to abandon the city of Minturno, strategic communications center and stronghold on the Appian Way. British troops in the Fifth army achieved this by [illegible] across this [illegible] barrier on both sides of Minturno in the face of fierce German counter-attacks.

76 Miles from Rome

Minturno is some 76 miles from Rome, as the bee would measure the course. That's about a twenty minute flight for a passenger plane, but it can be a mighty long distance for an army to fight its way—and likely will be. However, one of our toughest obstacles—the winter weather—would seem to be weakening. The experts say the worst of it probably is past, which gives promise that allied progress will be eased.

When British Premier Churchill returned to the house of commons this week—at his jovial best after his tilt with pneumonia in the Middle East—Sir Herbert William asked if the prime minister was aware of any "false optimism" voiced in a recent speech in which General Sir Bernard Montgomery indicated the probable early capture of Rome (your columnist hadn't placed such interpretation on Montgomery's remarks).

"I don't know about false optimism," Churchill replied. "There has been a lot of bad weather."

Some observers like to think that Rome will be in allied hands by spring, but caution reminds us that there are some tough obstacles to be surmounted before we reach that happy goal with land troops, though our bombers are finding the going easy enough, as witness the assaults on the city yesterday and day before. We shall be unexpectedly lucky if we are able to do much free-wheeling along the Appian way towards the capital until the long allied line has advanced another half hundred miles or so northward.

Work Is Cut Out

The American Fifth army must occupy the high ground beyond Frosinone in order to get set for the final dash to Rome (maps please!). At the same time the British Eighth army on the right flank will have to capture the heights north of Pescara on the Adriatic. We must expect this to entail much hard fighting, for the Germans have the advantage of the strong mountain positions in the center of the Italian peninsula.

The further offensive may be speeded by amphibious operations along the coasts. As a matter of fact the Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm Aftonbladet yesterday reported that American forces were being landed at several points on the Gulf of Gaeta, behind the German line. There has been no confirmation or denial of this.

In any event, once the allied machine has occupied those heights beyond Frosinone and Pescara it should be in a favorable position. Then our men may achieve their ambition of making speed along the Appian Way. They will be traversing a road which has resounded to the tramping feet of armies for more than two thousand years.

Appius Claudius, censor at Rome from 312 to 308 B.C., built this immortal military highway during that period. He thought so well of his creation that he called it "the Queen of Roads"—a name which still clings, and not without merit.

Beware Coughs Following Flu
After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

BREAK EXPECTED IN SOLDIER VOTE JAM

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. [illegible]—The congressional log jam on soldier voting showed signs of breaking up today after the senate elections committee came out with a compromise bill providing a uniform federal ballot but leaving vote-counting authority [illegible] state control.

Several staunch senate [illegible]ers of states' rights swung [illegible]ly behind the compromise measure, and its co-sponsor, Sen. Lucas (D-Ill) predicted [illegible] be passed by the senate [illegible] earlier rejected another [illegible] ballot plan and substituted [illegible]quirement that service per[illegible] cast state absentee ballots or [illegible] at all.

As redrafted, the bill omits controversial sections voiding the poll tax and registration requirements. It specifically provides that state and local election officials shall have full authority to determine whether [illegible] service men or women are qualified to vote.

Approved 12 to 2 by the committee, the bill authorizes a federal ballot under which service men at home or overseas [illegible] vote for president, vice president or members of congress [illegible]ing in names of candidates [illegible] political parties.

It directs the Army and Navy to distribute where practicable post card forms on which application could be made for [illegible] absentee ballots for voting [illegible] state and local candidates.

A four-member bipartisan federal ballot commission would be appointed by the President. Its authority would be limited to preparing the federal ballot [illegible] and cooperating with the Army and Navy in getting the ballots distributed throughout the world.

HERBERT CITES NEED FOR MENTAL CARE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 21—Lieut. Gov. Paul M. Herbert told the Ohio Association of Juvenile Judges yesterday "at least 6,000 mental defectives many with dangerous proclivities, are at large in Ohio due to the need of proper facilities and accommodations."

He said his figures were based on a county to county survey conducted by the Ohio post-war planning commission.

"In Cuyahoga county alone, there are nearly one thousand at large," the state official asserted, "and about 300 are being cared for in private institutions. One of the most difficult problems is that of feeble-minded children under the age of six. There is just no place to put them.

"Ohio must face realities," he continued. "We need additional institutions. * * * insanity is a sickness. Ohio could well establish a mental laboratory with the latest and most modern equipment."

Probate Judge Harry G. Gram of Springfield, a member of the Ohio children's code commission, today called on juvenile judges at their annual convention to support legislation designed to help solve growing juvenile delinquency.

"A state program of child care is essential," Judge Gram said, "and we need a new children's code to provide the services now needed."

He said the commission created three years ago would sponsor 14 separate bills in the next legislature as a substitute for a bulky proposal which the last general assembly failed to enact.

Judge Gram, newly elected president of the association, asserted the last legislature failed to act on children's code proposals because of fear it would centralize too much authority in the state government.

"The commission feels that this (new) legislation will not centralize but shift to counties the services performed by the state. Effective performance of services by counties are the best check against state centralization."

He said 10 counties already had established welfare departments and expressed the hope others would be created. Licking, Trumbull and Wyandot counties are among those establishing their own departments.

CONTINUES DRAFT FIGHT

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 21—Pvt. Roville Wood, Preble county (O.) farmer recently inducted and stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, filed a habeas corpus petition in U. S. district court in another attempt to be exempted from military service. Federal Judge Robert R. Nevin on Jan. 10 refused to stay induction of Wood in Ohio. Wood claims his local draft board classified him improperly.

One of the best ways to win the winter battle with ration points is to make the most of shortenings and fats other than high-point butter. Fats provide the energy to keep us going strong, particularly in cold weather.

The fat trimmed from steaks, chops and roasts is excellent for browning and seasoning potatoes and other vegetables, meat cakes and fish fillets. It can also be put into savory sauces and is good to use for browning celery, onions and other seasonings added to soups, stews and chowders. Bacon and chicken fat give extra flavor and can pinch-hit for butter in most cooking lines.

Your precious butter supply should be kept chilled, and cut with a sharp wet knife to prevent the waste of butter sticking to the knife. Butter can be extended by combining with margarine in equal amounts or by other home methods which appeal to the family. We prefer this method for extending a pound of butter. Let butter stand in kitchen for 15 minutes, soften by mixing with fork or slotted spoon, add an egg and cup of hot cream or top milk. Beat until well blended. The hot cream will kill the raw egg taste which is not agreeable to some. Chill and use this butter spread as desired — for regular bread spread, for cake making or food seasoning.

If jams and marmalades are served for breakfast, save butter for lunch box sandwich spread or dinner service. For home lunches, peanut butter blended with honey is a nutritious, easy-to-serve spread.

Rationed sugar has now turned a lot of its sweetening work over to honey, corn and maple sirup as well as molasses. Slack up on the amount of sugar in a recipe which also calls for prunes, dates and raisins. These are natural sugars. Let prune juice carry a larger part of the sweet load when making creamed prune puddings, sauces, baked or steamed loaves or muffins.

For economy cut two eggs down to one egg in making waffles, muffins, cornbread and ginger drop cakes or molasses cake. Two eggs can be made to do for three eggs in your favorite cake, cookie and dessert recipes. Egg yolks can take the place of a whole egg in cream-filled pies or chocolate or butterscotch puddings.

KABOBS made from squares of lean pork and veal get good point and money values in meat buying. Have the butcher cut up half a pound of each into pieces about an inch square. Alternate pork and veal on wooden or metal skewers. Dust with seasoned flour (salt, pepper, celery seed, chopped onion and parsley added to flour). Brown in small amount of unrationed fat, heated in frying pan. Add one-fourth inch boiling water, tomato or vegetable stock. Cover and bake or cook on top of stove for 45 minutes over low heat. This will serve four.

Rice or savory bread stuffing fitted over top of pan-browned or baked pork or veal chops or boneless beef cut during the last 15 minutes of the cooking extends the meat flavor and turns out a nutritious dish.

Prexies' Toughest Foe Here Tonight

Marion Harding faces its toughest foe of the season in the Ashland Hilltoppers on the Thomas A. Edison court tonight as the 1943-44 North Central Ohio conference race reaches the half-way mark for all six contesting schools.

Bucyrus tours to Mt. Vernon and Galion plays host to the Shelby Whippets in the other two league [illegible] on tap for four tonight. After the completion of these three engagements, all N. C. O. teams will have competed in five loop contests.

Upsets could, of course, jumble the N. C. O. standings at the end of the first round, but that [illegible] anything but logical. Harding's Presidents, currently in a second place tie with the Bucyrus Redmen, would have to rise to great heights to topple A. L. Buchner's Hilltoppers. If the Prexies would turn this neat trick and Bucyrus would trample Mt. Vernon according to the form sheet, the kingpin's seat would be shared by three teams—Ashland, Bucyrus and Marion.

Game at Edison Gym

One position definitely will be changed about 10 o'clock tonight, however, after Galion and Shelby wind up their basket tossing session at the Galion Junior High school gym. Both teams have won one game while finishing on the slim end thrice, which deadlocks them for fourth place.

As a majority of local fans probably know, Dewey Rohyer's Presidential basketeers have resorted to a strategical shake-up to trip Ashland. The only way you can discover what this secret victory potion is would be to try to cram into Edison's Junior Size gymnasium tonight. At last reports, both adult and student tickets for the game were going fast. However, some adult ducats may still be on sale at the Markert and Lewis Clothing Store on East Center street. A total of 250 tickets is the spectator allotment for all Harding home games.

Recall Grid Game

If the four footballers who are members of the first Harding five recall the 0 to 0 tie with the Ashland eleven last fall and how that almost meant the loss of an N. C. O. championship to the locals, a Prexy win over the Bucknermen might be realized. That clash at the Ashland college field was as bitter as high school games come and was a see-saw battle all the way. Harding was in scoring territory on several occasions but lacked the punch to drive the pigskin across the double stripe.

As a special attraction at tonight's Prexy-Hilltopper game, the Senior Hi-Y of Harding will honor the mothers of the local basketballers. Flowers will be given to the players' mothers between halves in a continuation of a traditional Hi-Y club practice.

Another point in Harding's favor tonight will be the overall results of President Harding games on the local court. The Toppers have won only 25 per cent of their tilts with Harding in contests here.

Probable starting lineups for tonight's game:

Harding		Ashland
Kilbourn	F	Jacobs
Beach	F	Schaffer
Fazio	C	Geisinger
Young	G	Harris
Williams	G	Reese

ELLSWORTH VINES WINS GOLF MATCH

By The Associated Press

SAN GABRIEL, Calif., Jan. 21—It has taken three years of arduous practice, but Henry Ellsworth Vines, once the monarch of the tennis world, has come into his own as a golf professional.

Elly Vines, one of the all-time greats of the net game, has just won his first golf tournament against-time competition. He captured the San Gabriel country club's pro-amateur best ball event yesterday with a course record-equalling 61, seven strokes under par.

Byron Nelson, golfman's man of the year in 1943, finished second with a 67. Nelson was doing everything right. But Vines was superlative. He had to putt only 26 times on 18 holes and never was over par anywhere.

Vines' performance was on the course where he learned to play the game when he quit tennis for good in 1940 after being the world amateur champion and then king of the net pros for five years.

The long-haired, long-legged Vines has been the hottest golfer in southern California all winter. But for two jinx holes, he might have been right there with the winner, Jug McSpaden, in the recent $10,000 Los Angeles open.

St. Mary Foe After Revenge Here Saturday

Marion St. Mary's Irish basketeers will again be in the unwelcome position of having to contend with a court foe seeking revenge when they keep their appointment with the Tiffin Calvert Parochial cage team at Thomas A. Edison Junior High tomorrow night. The varsity game will start at 8:30 and will be preceded at 7:30 by a contest between the Junior Varsity outfits of the two schools.

Calvert is one of several teams on the 1943-44 Irish basketball docket that were subjugated by the forces last fall. Coach Lane McCrate's undefeated 1943 Irish gridders won a thrilling 7 to 6 decision over Calvert on the Tiffin gridiron in October on a last quarter pass from Danny McGinnis to End Frank Tobin. You can bet all your belongings, tangible and intangible, that the Tiffin squad will take the small Edison floor against the locals with grim determination to atone for that grid setback.

The St. Mary basketballers will be after victory No. 6 tomorrow night, their record now standing at five wins and the same number of defeats. The score-packed 51 to 48 Irish loss to Lima St. Rose last Friday night here dropped the local Parochials again to the .500 mark. Prior to that loss, which, by the way, was to a team in practically the same boat as Calvert, the Irish had won three straight games and appeared to be on their merry way toward a great finish of a season that had started out dismally. Fred George's St. Rose team, you know, was bounced by the Irish footballers this fall, 32 to 0, and was given a repeat licking by the McCrate cagers, 40 to 36, last month.

High scorer for St. Mary going into tomorrow night's tussle is Dan McGinnis, who operates efficiently at either forward or guard, with 106 points in ten contests, for an average of 10.6. Center Jim Lawler trails McGinnis with second best total of 69 markers in ten tilts. Forward Steve Norris, a senior, has marked up 58 counters.

Calvert's most recent triumph was a 45 to 25 win over McCutchenville's Wyandot County league team Tuesday night, 45 to 25. McCutchenville the previous week had dealt a 35 to 30 loss to the Tiffin Parochials. High point man for Calvert in Tuesday's game was Center Miletti, who found the hoop for 22 points on ten baskets and two free throws. This same Miletti was a main cog in the Calvert grid machine last fall, at a backfield spot.

St. Mary's Junior Irishers will be vying for their seventh win in nine starts against the Tiffin reserves in tomorrow night's preliminary game. The St. Mary JayVees posted their latest victory over St. Rose last week, 26 to 19.

FOUR GAMES HOLD MIDWEST SPOTLIGHT

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 21—Four games, two of them Big Ten conference affairs, hold the spotlight on tonight's midwest basketball program.

Iowa, only major undefeated team in this section, risks its unblemished record at home in a conference clash with Illinois which has a season showing of seven victories and three defeats and a conference standing of two wins in four starts. The Hawkeyes have seven consecutive wins, two of them Big Ten conquests of Minnesota.

Prestige is at stake in the other top games, too. De Paul, still rated one of the nation's greatest fives despite its trimming by Valparaiso last week, will attempt to ring up its 14th triumph in 15 contests when it takes on Marquette in the second game of a Chicago stadium double header.

In the stadium opener Notre Dame tackles Northwestern for the second time this season. The Irish dropped the first game several weeks ago.

The other major game brings Michigan to LaFayette, Ind., for a conference session with Purdue which is tied for the Big Ten leadership with Iowa, Northwestern and Ohio State.

Two Leagues To Plan for Resumption of Play

By The Associated Press

EBENSBURG, Pa., Jan 21—Elmer Daily, president of the Mid-Atlantic and Penn State baseball leagues, said today he had invited representatives of the two circuits to meet in Pittsburgh Sunday, Jan. 30, to discuss plans for resumption of play "in case war conditions change unexpectedly."

Neither league functioned last season and Daily said he doubted whether they would this "unless there is a letup in the manpower and transportation problems."

However, he added, "we want to sit down and talk things over so we can have our plans ready when conditions change for the better."

He said he had invited representatives of the following teams which comprised the Mid-Atlantic league in 1942: Erie, Charleston, Dayton, Springfield, Canton and Zanesville.

MARINO STILL GOING

CHICAGO, Jan. 21—Hank Marino, the veteran Milwaukee bowling star, has another record to ad to his long list in the kegling sport. Of the 1,280 bowlers entered in the rich 31st Petersen individual bowling classic which opens tomorrow, Marino is the only one who has competed in the 30 previous events. Marino won the classic in 1925 but he annually has carried off some part of the prize money.

Golden Gloves Entrants Busy in Training Quarters at "Y"

By CHARLES ELLIOTT

Two distinct amateur boxing eras are joined in this year's Golden Gloves event and the result of this intermingling promises to be an interesting appearing tournament to be held at the Marion Armory on March 13, 14 and 17.

The actual participants in this year's revived tourney are young—practically all between 15 and 19 years. They all possess the spirit and ruggedness that generally accompany youth and are in dead earnest about training for the tourney. The entrants themselves represent one era, that of the present day.

The second era manifests itself in the men who are devoting their time and energies to training and instructing the boy-boxers for the tournament. A visit to the special training headquarters in a third floor room in the Y. M. C. A. building will give a person a better idea of just who these trainers are and what they have accomplished in the way of preparing the boys both physically and mentally for the competition in March.

Training periods are held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the Y from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. and not a minute of these two-hour sessions is wasted. The boys keep on the move almost every second of the time they are in the training room. Whenever one of the trainers sees a boy is apt to "loaf" or take it easy for short intervals, he isn't reluctant to shout "keep on the move, don't stand around," or the like.

Boys Like It

And the boys don't seem to mind any of this rigorous preparatory routine. They obey all commands of the trainers to the letter and are constantly trying to better themselves in all phases of training.

Head man around the small, gloomy training room is Wayne G. McCune, chairman of the boxing committee of the Y's Men's club, which is sponsoring this year's tourney. He has as his assistants Joe Yaniteil, Clyde Shearer, Jimmy Williams, Willie Benson and Bill Stout. All these trainers have had ample ring experience and know the do's and don'ts of boxing.

Unofficial helper of McCune is an ardent ring lover, who although forced to retire from active participation in the sport several years ago because of partial blindness, has aided in the promotion of Golden Gloves events as a trainer. He is "Kid" Mondue, a decade ago a hard-hitting Negro welterweight in this vicinity.

The "Kid" is of inestimable value to the Negro lads who are aiming on slinging leather in the Gloves tourney. Mondue not only advises his proteges on how to whale the slugging sack, containing wood shavings, but also shouts tips from the sidelines when two of his charges are exchanging blows on the mat. Mondue even put on the padded mitts himself in an effort to show Light Heavyweight Tom Clemmons the finer points of the fight game. And don't be misinformed that the "Kid" has lost his "touch" and ring technique. He had the younger, heavier Clemmons guessing many a time in their several-minute slugfest. Boss McCune several times told other Glovers, who took time out from their rope-skipping, shadow-boxing, etc., to watch Mondue and Clemmons tangle, to notice the Kid's bobbing and weaving style, and try to pattern theirs accordingly.

Golden Gloves footnotes:

Two more entries have been received by the Y's Men's boxing committee to bring to 32 the number of hopefuls booked to swing leather in the event. The two faces are Mike Partipilo of St. Mary Parochial High school and John Alexander of Harding High . . . The Friendly House boxing club of Mansfield has been contacted concerning entering fighters in the Marion tournament . . . Local officials expect several boys in training at that well-known home of outstanding amateur pugilists to participate in the Armory event. . . . However, the Friendly House-prepped boxers who have won A. A. U. trophies will not be eligible for competition here. . . . One of the most illustrious graduates of Marion Golden Gloves ranks was Beauford Glover, a Mansfielder, who fought in the 1940 tourney here and easily won the lightweight crown. . . . Since, he has made a name for himself in professional circles in Cleveland as a welterweight . . . . Another boy from Friendly House, Paul Carbetta, went on to win the National A. A. U. flyweight title after pushing aside all opposition here several years ago.

Some of the trainers are beginning to feel rather dejected over the fact that the race track that for many years stood in the lower Y. M. C. A. gym was torn down by local basketball officials. The track probably would have made a dandy conditioner for boxers before they start sparring or trading punches in the squared circle.

* * *

Marion Mewhorter, program chairman of the Y. M. C. A., seems to be impressed with the results being shown by the persistent tutelage of the Golden Gloves trainers. He's even thinking of introducing boxing into the regular Y. M. C. A. athletic program. However, he adds that boxing would not be stressed as a competitive sport but as a body-builder and developer of aggressiveness on the part of the Y. M. C. A. members.

* * *

Vic Dorris, physical education supervisor at Harding High school, is scheduled to give boxing to his muscle-factory students next week. This addition to the high school physical curriculum may serve as an enticement for many more schoolboys to enter the Golden Gloves tourney before the deadline Feb. 10.

* * *

One of the Gloves contestants is stocky John Benedict, brother of Joe Benedict, a few years back one of Marion's standout fighters. Johnny displays the fortitude and initiative of his brother in the ring but naturally lacks the experience. You may be sure he gets his share of it before training comes to an end in about two months.

Piles Are Never 'Mild'

DANGER IN NEGLECT

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves. Instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in the back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

If, therefore, you are distressed by what you have regarded as only a "mild" case of piles, do not, by any means, allow that to be a reason for neglecting them.

Removal of piles is the only positive cure. This can be done without knife, drugs or loss of time from work.

Volunteers Urgently Needed To Help Make Red Cross Sponges

An urgent call is being issued today for the women of Marion and vicinity to again volunteer their services in the making of Red Cross sponges to be used in caring for the wounded men of the armed forces, starting Monday, Jan. 24.

Plans for opening the surgical dressings center in the Elks parlors were completed at a meeting of Mrs. Warren Sawyer, chairman of surgical dressings, Mrs. Richard H. Lawson, co-chairman, Miss Lillian Flack, Red Cross secretary, Mrs. J. C. Ackerman and Mrs. George E. Planck, vice chairmen, Mrs. J. T. McNamara, production chairman, and the instructors, yesterday at the center.

On hand to be made up immediately are 20,000 2x2 sponges, 18,000 4x4 sponges and 7,200 4x8 sponges. The February quota, already assigned, is 13,000 4x4 sponges. The material on hand represents the December and January quotas.

The center will be open each day, Monday through Friday from 1 to 4 p. m. and Monday and Friday nights from 7:15 to 9:15 o'clock.

"We are again counting on the cooperation of the women in the community to help in this immediate and urgent work," Mrs. Sawyer said in announcing the opening of the surgical dressing center. The center has been closed for several weeks due to the lack of material. Delayed distribution of material for making the sponges is due to the man power shortage as manufacturers of the gauze are having difficulty in procuring sufficient help to meet the demands of the war department which gives out the contracts.

There will be a great need for volunteer workers as the call for dressings is serious and urgent, the committee states, and it is hoped that women who have been working at the center and others interested in helping will respond immediately.

Edison Junior High Wins from Vernon

Edison Junior High school's cagers barely took a game from Vernon Junior High's five in a contest last night on the Edison hardwoods. Edison took the lead in the second quarter, but lost it to Vernon in the third stanza. Things evened up in the last quarter, and the weather looked good for Vernon until Ralston, Edison guard, scored the winning basket in the last minute of play. The basket was the lone score credited to Ralston for the game.

In a reserve game which Edison also won, 14 to 12, Edison players were Johnson, Gheyman, Gwinney, Showalters, Morris and McGuarry. Vernon men were Ballinger, Estes, Andrews, Swetlin, Roest and Thomas.

A summary of the varsity game follows:

Edison—40	G.	F.	Vernon—39	G.	F.
Willis, f	2	3	Dutt, f	3	3
Huddle, f	1	0	Armbruster, f	7	0

STATE LEAGUE MEETING SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY

Organizers May Outline Schedule of Games.

Plans for an Ohio State League meeting in Columbus Sunday at which franchises may be granted to six cities including Marion and at which a schedule of games for the 1944 season may be outlined were reported today in an Associated Press dispatch from Columbus.

Meanwhile, a group of Marion residents who have already met to consider what Marion's participation in the league might require of this community, was continuing its study, with a possibility that Marion may be represented at the Sunday session.

At Columbus, Joe Donnelly, president of the league, reported the Class D loop's prospects were bright.

The season probably will open early in May and close Labor day or the following Sunday, Donnelly said. He listed these cities as certain members: Newark, Springfield, Zanesville, Lima, Middletown and Marion.

He returned from visiting baseball men in those cities with a report all would have major league backing.

Revival of the Ohio state loop in the face of curtailed baseball operations elsewhere because of drafting of players and travel restrictions has attracted widespread interest.

Another counter-trend appeared with Elmer Daily's invitation to Mid-Atlantic and Penn State League members to meet in Pittsburgh Jan. 30 to talk over the possibility of resuming play "in case war conditions change unexpectedly and the manpower shortage lets up." Daily, who lives at Ebensburg, Pa., is president of both leagues.

Rites Held for Wife of Former Grid Star

Funeral services were conducted Thursday at 1:30 p. m. at the Arnold funeral parlors in Canton for Mrs. Ruth Croft Calac, 39, wife of Peter Calac. Burial was made in Forest Hill cemetery at Canton.

Her husband, now a patrolman on the Canton city police force, was widely known in sports circles. For many years he played professional football with Jim Thorpe's Indians and made his home at LaRue. He came to LaRue in 1921 and lived there for about five years. He continued playing professional football for several years before joining the Canton police force.

Mrs. Calac was a former resident of Marion, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Croft of 240 Barnhart street.

Harpster Automobile Damaged in Accident

An automobile driven by Mrs. Grace Loraine Grover, 35, of Harpster skidded across the intersection of North Main and Hazen streets Thursday at 9:15 a. m when she attempted to bring the car to a stop and struck an icy place in the street.

Police say the car, traveling south on Main, spun completely around, crashing into a utility pole on the southeast corner. It was heading north when it stopped.

The entire right side of the car was damaged and it was removed to Scioto Trail garage. Mrs. Grover suffered only a minor head injury.

A fire alarm box, knocked to the ground by the impact, was slightly damaged.

CLASS GIVES PROGRAM

"What Religion Means to Men in Front Lines" was the title of a paper read by Mrs. Ella Boyer when the Loyal Women's class of Central Christian church met Thursday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Oscar Noe led devotions and prayer was offered by Mrs. Bert Woodruff. Mrs. J. C. Miller presented a paper, "The Bible Was Right About Our Modern Miracles." "The Human Comedy" by William Saroyan was reviewed by Mrs. Ollie Snyder. The meeting closed with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Mrs. E. E. Herrod, Mrs. Dora Dall and Mrs. Ella Boyer composed the committee in charge of arrangements.

2 ITALIANS EXECUTED

By The Associated Press

NAPLES, Jan. 21—Two 18-year-old confessed Italian spies who admitted sworn allegiance to the Fascist youth organization and who were convicted of furnishing information to the Germans concerning allied movements in Italy were executed today by a firing squad.

SENATE COMMITTEE HEARS W.C.T.U. HEAD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—The president of the Women's Christian Temperance union told the senate's special liquor investigating committee yesterday "the world is hungry for bread but the liquor interests would use wheat as well as corn" to make alcoholic beverages.

Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith disclaimed as "unauthorized" a recent press release suggesting the committee was under control of and inspired by big distilling interests. Then she made these charges against the distillery interests:

That they are fostering advertising to make members of the armed forces "the prey of the liquor interests."

That one concern sponsored the sale of egg nog in department stores with a view to luring women to drink alcohol.

Small of stature, the 71-year-old W.C.T.U. president, dressed in blue with a perky little hat from which a feather protruded, read rapidly from publications of the liquor and brewery trade.

Asked by Chairman Van Nuys (D-Ind) about a press release which he said reputedly came from W.C.T.U. headquarters "insinuating this subcommittee was under the control of and inspired by the national distillers," Mrs. Smith replied:

"It has always been the policy and habit of this organization to give out information it can verify by producing proof. That press release was unauthorized. We do not pre-judge the action of a committee."

ORDNANCE PLANT DOCTOR GETS ARMY COMMISSION

Dr. Wendorf to Report for Training Jan. 29.

Dr. H. S. Wendorf, who came to Marion in March 1942 to take over his duties as medical director with Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co., has been commissioned a captain in the medical corps of the U. S. Army and will leave Jan. 29 for Carlisle, Pa. for training at Carlisle Barracks. Mrs. Wendorf and their two children will remain here until after Dr. Wendorf has completed his training and is permanently assigned.

He is a veteran of World War I, having served two years with the 135th Field artillery. A part of his service was overseas. He came to Marion from Ravenna, where he was in private practice from 1930 to October 1940, when he joined the staff at the Ravenna Ordnance plant, a position he held until coming to Marion. He served as medical director with the U. S. Rubber Co. and more recently has been with the Permanente Metals Corp., now located at the Ordnance site.

Dr. Wendorf received his medical degree at Ohio State university and served his interneship at Mercy hospital in Columbus.

U. S. Employment Office Workers Hear Officials

Employes of the Marion U. S. Emploment Service office today met with two WMC representatives from Columbus to consider means of making full use of minority groups in essential war work. The WMC representatives were Ralph J. Gabele, area director, and Wendell B. Edgerly, WMC training representative.

Mr. Gabele emphasized that "It is our responsibility, faced with a still severe labor shortage, to see to it that all applicants be referred to jobs in war industry strictly on the basis of qualification without regard to any other factors such as race, religion or creed."

KILLED IN CRASH

By The Associated Press

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 21—A plane collision killed Naval Aviation Cadets Howard LeRoy Baumgarner, son of Starley H. Baumgarner, route 4, Hillsboro, O., and Willard L. Reitz of Chicago at the Pensacola naval air station.

GALION MAN WEDS IN PROXY MARRIAGE

GALION, Jan. 21—The third marriage by proxy in Florida which took place Dec. 9 at West Palm Beach, united in marriage an Army nurse, Lt. Louise Margaret Haylette of Underhill, Vt., now serving in North Ireland, and a Galion boy, Lt. Woodrow William Crissinger who is stationed at Drew Field, Tampa, Fla. Announcement of the ceremony was made Thursday.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Haylette of Underhill, Vt.

Lt. Crissinger is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crissinger of Galion, and recently spent a holiday leave with his parents here. He was graduated from Galion High school in 1931 and from Ohio State university in June, 1942. He attended the college of engineering, specializing in electrical engineering and was a member of Tau Beta Pi fraternity. On July 8, 1942, he reported for active duty as a commissioned officer at Forth Monmouth, N. J., and on Nov. 14, went to Fort Hamilton, N. Y., before going to England where he arrived on Dec. 14. He came back to the United States last September, and is a member of the Army Signal Corps electronics training camp and has done special work in radio, having studied that development while in England.

He and Lt. Haylette met in England and because Lt. Crissinger was unexpectedly ordered back to this country last September, they decided to carry out their plans for marriage by proxy. Permission had to be secured from the commanding general of the European Theater of Operations.

Two hundred and fifty members of Marion Lodge of Elks were present at a sauer kraut and sparerib supper and "roundup" held Thursday night in the Elks club rooms on South State street. Twenty-seven long absent members were rounded up and brought to the supper by an "Elks' Patrol." A regular lodge meeting followed the roundup and two candidates were balloted on. Ed Watters was appointed to organize an Elks' quartet. Dr. A. J. Wagner was the chairman in charge of the roundup. A dutch lunch will be served on Feb. 3, and a duck dinner will be served to members and prospective candidates on Feb. 17. Initiation will follow the duck dinner.

Lepke Enters Prison Death Cell at Sing-Sing

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 21—Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, convicted leader of "Murder, Inc.," was surrendered to New York state authorities today, ending a long controversy with the federal government over his custody.

Without delay the racketeer was led to a bullet-proof limousine, handcuffed to an officer of the New York state department of correction, for transfer to Sing-Sing prison where he will be placed in a death house cell.

The government has stipulated that he be returned to federal jurisdiction to complete a 14-year-sentence for narcotics law violation, should Governor Thomas E. Dewey commute the sentence of death.

REPORT NOT CONFIRMED

By The Associated Press

BERN, Switzerland, Jan. 21—There is no confirmation here of reports the Vatican has recognized the new government of the Philippines stablished under Japanese control.

RAILS HOLDING STOCKS STEADY

Prices Slightly Irregular at Start, Strengthen at Mid-Day.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 21—Further strength in rails and specialties was the principal bulwark of today's stock market.

Prices, slightly irregular at the start in quiet dealings, stiffened around midday. Gains of fractions to a point were well distributed near the fourth hour. Losers, however, were plentiful.

Another batch of pleasing dividends and earnings statements, together with hopeful business prospects, served to prop individual issues. Handicaps persisted in the war bond drive, the international situation and the wage-labor Washington atmosphere.

In front most of the time were General Electric, U. S. Rubber, Woolworth, International Harvester, United Aircraft, Youngstown Sheet and Chrysler. Intermittent decliners included Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Westinghouse, Sears Roebuck, Du Pont and Johns-Manville. Steels were virtually at a standstill.

LOCAL BUYING HELPS WHEAT PRICES TODAY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 21—Wheat displayed a relatively strong undertone today, supported by buying from local traders. The continued dry weather over most of the mid-west, coupled with government demand for flour, was the major factor in the strength.

The firmness of the bread cereal was not reflected in other grains. At the time rye was about a cent, but the market broke quickly when traders attempted to sell out rye bought early in the session. Prices fell below yesterday's close. Oats and barley were unable to make any headway.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

I SAW that Mary already was hatted and gloved and I turned back to Carolyn.

"No one but Mary is here," I said. "Come on in when you're ready."

"In a minute!" she answered, and I noted that despite her panic and emotion, she was retouching her face carefully in the mirror, to be sure that lipstick, rouge and powder were effectively put on.

Madge Frowns

With an involuntary little frown, I went into the living room and put on my own hat, gloves and coat. Then, with a glance at my wrist watch, I looked at Mary.

"What did Marston say?" I asked.

"What do you think he'd say to the queen's command?" she asked pertly. "He assured me solemnly that the taxi with guards would be at the street door in exactly ten minutes."

"We have three minutes to get down there," I said, and stepping back to the bedroom door said sharply:

"Put your hat on quickly, Carolyn, or else carry it in your hand. We have just three minutes to meet our taxi at the entrance."

She gave a quick darting glance into the mirror, and I had the feeling that if she had not been satisfied with her reflection, she would have delayed matters further, not from malice, but from ineradicable vanity. Then she crammed her cosmetics into a case which fitted into her purse, snapped the purse, put on her hat with a care which made me grit my teeth, and then caught up her coat and gloves.

Leads Way

"I can put these on in the corridor," she said, and, without comment, I led the way to the elevator.

We were half a minute late for the taxi, and found Marston anxiously consulting his wrist watch.

"The Chief doesn't want us to stay more than a few seconds in front of any hotel entrance," he said.

"I know that," I told him, "but it was unavoidable. We will start at once, however."

A Swift Glance

He gave us a swift, appraising glance.

"Three of you," he said. "I had better get in the car with you. The other guard is sitting with the driver, who is also one of us."

"You are in charge of this journey," I told him emphatically. "I am interested only in getting to my destination."

I had waved Mary and Carolyn ahead of me, and as I finished, Marston's hand on my elbow ushered me to a seat beside them.

"You'll get there all right," he said with amusing emphasis. "All right, Joe."

He evidently had given the address of the apartment to the driver beforehand, for at once the man cut the car away from the door and through the streets leading to the lower downtown district with gratifying speed, almost disconcerting. When I had assured myself that all my neck vertebrae were intact, I gave Marston a significant look.

Must Plan

"You'll excuse us, I know, and forget what you hear. I shall have to plan things with these girls on the way down."

"In this business, I'm deaf, dumb and blind when it's necessary," he said laconically, and turned his attention to his newspaper, while I fixed mine on Mary and Carolyn.

"If Marion has not yet left the restaurant by the time we get to the apartment," I said, "I am going to have both of you, as well as Noel disguised so that you can go over to that restaurant and order dinner, without Marion, or anyone else recognizing you. Halloran, the make-up man, will be there and he will do quick transformations on all of you. I'm sorry to have you made over into a rather unattractive woman, Carolyn, but if you're not to be recognized, there's no other way. Then you will accompany Ronald and me to the restaurant, and be ready to whisper to me if you recognize any of the men or women who are accompanying Marion."

Carolyn looked at me with a pleading expression.

"Is it absolutely necessary to disguise me?" she asked.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Vegetarians

IN THESE days of food rationing, to judge by what you hear from your neighbors and acquaintances, vegetarianism doesn't seem to have made many converts. All that comes to me is a series of squawks about not getting enough meat.

Vegetarians, of course, differ among themselves, and they are vegetarians for many different reasons. There are those who have moral reasons. It is wrong to slaughter animals. No argument can be brought against that. Those who aver that the eating of meat brings the danger of disease lurking in animal flesh belong to another school. As do those who believe in vegetarianism as a means of promoting horticulture and getting us all back to an agricultural existence.

The poisonous nature or dangers of meat as an argument hasn't much scientific basis. One has only to adduce the studies of Thomas on "The Health of a Carnivorous Race," which were the Eskimos. They live exclusively on raw meat, and contrary to belief do not eat much fat or blubber. They are very healthy. High blood pressure or kidney disease is less prevalent among them than among us. Examining nearly two hundred Eskimos between the ages of 40 and 60, Thomas found the average blood pressure to be 129. They are very active and vigorous, so they must get vitamins from the meat.

Those who think that man's structure is designed for vegetarians made a mistake. It would not be scientific to say that man cannot subsist on a vegetarian diet for a long time and retain his faculties, as witness Bernard Shaw. Although, according to H. G. Wells, Shaw cheats; he has taken to using vitamin tablets lately and since some of them are of animal origin he doesn't call them food. He calls them—"Those chemicals."

Of the three primary food elements (excluding the vitamins and minerals) protein is found most abundantly in animal food. Fat also. Vegetables are predominant for the carbohydrates—sugar and starches. But all vegetables contain some protein, and many contain a great deal—wheat flour, cereals, beans, peas and nuts. So we can get proteins from vegetables. These vegetable proteins, however, do not act as readily in the bodily economy as animal proteins. They are not economical proteins.

So while it is possible to live and thrive on an exclusively vegetable diet, there is no support for the argument that it is a superior method of nutrition. It isn't.

But the really tough argument for the vegetarian to get over centers in the recent wartime experiments on isocaloric meals for war workers.

A set of workers were given breakfasts which were successively, for certain periods, first, almost entirely carbohydrate; second, almost entirely fat; and third, a little over half protein, a third carbohydrate and the rest fat. Then their efficiency was charted.

The carbohydrate breakfast kept them going for about two hours and then they slumped and complained about hunger and weakness.

The protein breakfast mixed with some carbohydrates and fat resulted in no let-up or diminution in vigor for six hours.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, Jan. 22

AN intriguing and eventful day, with surprise and unforeseen developments is presaged by an interesting chain of planetary aspects. While the occurrences may be of major significance, they may best be manipulated by quiet, subtle and shrewd tactics rather than aggressive or above board activities. Confidential or tacit agreements may best serve the desired objectives. Those in high prestige, if discreetly approached, with tact and finesse may be willing to lend their influence for promotion, responsibility and cherished honors. Cultivate such personages as well as the requisite qualifications.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of far-reaching influence on their present progress and future security. It is a time for working for advancement, favors and high honors either in public or private organizations where discretion, tact, diplomacy and honorable intrigues or strategies may prove the determining factor for success. Cultivate those in high places in order to attain responsible, meritorious or conspicuous recognition and power. Prudence, discretion, and silence are recommended, with deep recesses of power subtly manipulated.

A child born on this day may be endowed with much creative talent with peculiar insight into secret or profound problems, a gift inspired by intuition or psychic vision.
